Accident Prevention Demonstration

Washington, Sept. 22.—Demonstrations in accident prevention and first aid work are featured in the program of the ninth annual meeting of the National Safety Council to be held at Milwaukee, Sept. 3 to October 1, which is announced in the American Red Cross bulletin.

First aid work will be demonstrated by the Red Cross Bureau of First Aid and the metal and mining sections of the national safety council.

Plans for a demonstration showing the occurrence of an accident and rendering first aid, then an investigation to fix the responsibility, have been made by J. R. Mulligan, of the Bethlehem Steel organizations in first aid work.

Company, to be enacted by officers representing the Carnegie Steel Company, Midvale Steel and Ordnance Co., Cambria Steel Co., and the Red Cross Bureau of First Aid. A new carbon monoxide detector also will be demonstrated as to its accident prevention and first aid value.

A questionnaire issued by the council, the bureau of mines and the Red Cross to ascertain the experience of industrial concerns with first aid endeavors, has been sent out. The answers are expected to form the basis of an effort by the council to standardize various affiliated J. R. Mulligan, of the Bethlehem Steel organizations in first aid work.

CONTEST FOR HEAD OF AMERICAN LEGION

Cleveland, O., Sept. 22.—Who is to head the American Legion the coming year is receiving attention in anticipation of the second annual convention of the Legion opening in Cleveland Sept. 27.

Among those mentioned here for the office of commander are Milton J. Foreman of Illinois, Emmett O'Neill, of Kentucky, Hansford MacNider, of Iowa, and E. W. Galbraith, of Ohio.

Foreman was a colonel and state commander. When he took charge of the Illinois department it was 21st in legion membership. Now it is first. Foreman, who is more than 60 years old, served also in the Spanish-American war.

Kentucky is boosting O'Neill for the leadership because of his activity in legion affairs, especially as an organizer and leader.

MacNider is said to have more decorations than any other American with the exception of General Pershing. Nine of them for valor. He is a bank president in Mason City, Iowa, and vice commander of the Department of Iowa.

Galbraith was a colonel and state commander like Foreman. He was commander of the Ohio department until the Ohio convention at Youngstown elected his successor last month.

Colonel C. C. Chambers, of Cleveland, convention executive chairman, predicts that the convention will surpass in numbers any ever held in the country not excepting the great gatherings of the Grand Army of the Republic.

REPLACING LOST BOTTLES ADDS TO PRICE OF MILK

Washington, Sept. 22.—Replacing lost milk bottles adds to the price of milk paid by city consumers, an investigation by the department of agriculture has disclosed, although no attempt was made to fix the amount added to consumers' bills for this reason.

In at least 27 cities junk dealers were found to carry on a regular traffic in milk bottles.

The report says milk dealers "are compelled to purchase 1.2 bottles every month for each bottle they have filled daily during that period," and continues:

"The loss among small dealers is less than that sustained by the large enterprises. The small dealers have greater breakage than the large distributors, but they are better able to check up on the return of their bottles and therefore do not lose so many in that manner."

"Breaking bottles, losing or using them for other purposes, selling to junk dealers, or giving the bottles belonging to one dealer to another adds materially to the consumer's bill and is an economic error which each and every consumer can help to reduce by returning every bottle in good condition."

When the grand jury adjourned this afternoon its foreman ordered that subpoenas be issued for drivers and superintendents of explosive companies in this city. financial district, walked into the municipal building on their own account and reported that ten minutes after the blast, they had been talking with the driver of the death wagon which is believed either to have carried a bomb into Wall street or to have been hit there by an automobile while conveying explosives across the city.

The workers said that the driver had rushed up to them and declared his wagon had been blown up while he was telephoning his employer for an address to which he had been ordered to take some building materials. Then he is said to have disappeared.

Assistant District Attorney Talley indicated tonight that the September grand jury investigating the disaster would be particularly interested in the story of these four men, as the jurors had been charged to look for criminal negligence as well as conspiracy. A hint of the former was given by the workmen, who declared to reporters that some contractors frequently carried explosives in any sort of vehicle without bothering to obtain a permit. Mr. Talley said he would summon the four workmen to appear at his office tomorrow.

When the grand jury adjourned this afternoon its foreman ordered that subpoenas be issued for drivers and superintendents of explosive companies in this city. The subpoenas are returnable tomorrow morning. Several witnesses who claimed to have seen a powder wagon in the vicinity shortly before the explosion already have been heard.

Application of the league of nations argument to western problems was stressed by Governor Cox in addresses this morning at Meza and Tempe. Re-adjustment of European conditions as a result of the league, the governor said, would assist in opening up the European market to cotton and livestock which the west produces. Governor Cox promised that when elected he would send a corps of engineers into the west to locate new reclamation projects. He declared he favored the Smith-Fletcher bill for completing reclamation enterprises.

The governor urged that Senators Marcus A. Smith and Henry F. Ashurst, democrats, of Arizona, be returned to the senate. Speaking of Senator Smith, democratic candidate for re-election in the general election in November Gov. Cox said the senator could be counted upon to vote in favor of the league of nations. Senator Ashurst's seat is not involved in the election, his term not being near expiration.

Governor Cox said the league would be a "remedy" to bring about the readjustment of prices as a result of a readjustment of world conditions.

There were two definite conspiracies in the senate, the candidate declared, one was to prevent approval of the league of nations covenant and the other to prevent reduction of war taxation. Both were for the purpose of creating unrest and feeling against the administration, he asserted.

"I can use all three ovens and the broiler—at the same time"

"I've got roast in the coal oven, bread in that gas oven at the left, and now that I've lighted the broiler flame, this right-hand oven will be hot enough for my cake. I couldn't do all this baking with any other stove."

"You'd hardly believe such a small range could have so much oven space—6½ square feet without the racks, or 13 square feet with them. And from end to end my stove measures only forty-three inches!"

"THEN, in addition to the ovens, I can have nine kettles cooking all at once on the top, when I'm using both stoves—four on the coal griddles and five on the gas burners! Think how convenient that is when there's a big dinner to get—or at preserving time."

"Why, last summer I did an unbelievable amount of canning—all in one day—with this wonderful stove. While things that needed long cooking were simmering on the coal stove, I was canning the quickly cooked things on the gas."

"AND it's so nice to be able to use either stove separately. You know there's nothing like gas when you're in a hurry—and there are lots of times when a coal range is so much better."

"I discover new advantages in this Victory Crawford every day—it's come to be one of my most treasured possessions. Wait till you get one in your kitchen. Nothing could persuade you to part with it. It's a wonder."
